Subjects and Activities Resisted

Subjects with flexibility.

For example, a co-op class that is a high school requirement vs a grammar class for your 2nd grader.
Think what is absolutely needed and non negotiable.

Flexible - I'll take a break

Not Flexible - we'll continue with accommodations

Stress Reducer's I'll Use

- Use accommodations like narration instead of writing answers
- Use assistive technology to help complete assignments
- Hiring tutors for time-consuming or stress-producing subjects
- Breaking teaching times up into smaller chunks (highly effective for kids with focus or attentions issues)
- Consider using a timer (ie. do handwriting for 10 minutes instead of a complete page)
- Letting your child choose which subject to complete first
- Reduce the amount of writing, math problems, or other work required
- Offer rewards for completed work
